

Always wish you could compete in the Olympics? You can now live out your dream as you compete against your fellow colleagues in your own tailored mini Corporate Olympic games. With a large range of fun activities to choose from, Corporate Olympics provides the perfect setting in a safe and fun environment for staff to get together and compete. You don't have to be Usain Bolt to participate either, as all the activities are designed to ensure maximum participation and enjoyment by all!

The event starts off by having everyone split into teams and assigned a country. Proceedings will then start with an opening ceremony to get everyone into the Olympic spirit. The activities are split into mini versions of actual Olympic events through to many fun games.

These activities can range from relay and field events through to gymnastic type events and your old classics such as tug of war, legged races, sack races and egg and spoon races. The great thing about Corporate Olympics is that all teams compete at once as opposed to other similar events on the market which may be done in a round robin.

This allows for everyone to compete together which brings out the best in everyone and maximum enjoyment. Each of the activities are also designed to involve full participation from all team members (rather than individuals) which will draw on everybody's strengths and weaknesses.

Each round of activities will conclude with a medal presentation where gold, silver and bronze will be awarded. The aim of the event is to be the country to finish at the top of the medals standings with the most number of gold medals!

The event can be held in any large park or garden and conclude at a venue of your choice for drinks or a BBQ to celebrate the fun filled day. So if you think you are up for the challenge and would like to get everyone into the Olympic spirit, let Uplift Events design a Corporate Olympic Games for your company that will be hailed as 'the greatest games ever!'

Corporate Olympics Testimonials

“A huge thankyou to Conant and the team at Uplift Events, for facilitating our team building afternoon.

Our ‘Office Olympics’ event was highly worthwhile ..... the goals the organising committee set before the event were achieved and most importantly people had fun. The feedback on the day and post the event has been very positive, and we have found that this has had an ongoing positive reflection and influence on how the team interacts, which is wonderful.

The event was extremely well organised and everything on the actual day ran very smoothly. The staff helping on the day of the event were very friendly, as well as professional. They were eager to help out, regardless of what the request was for.

This was also true in the lead up to the event. Con especially did a great job helping us plan the location and activities for the day, and most importantly he was open to our suggestions and feedback about the finer details.

We would have no hesitation at all in recommending Uplift Events to NAB teams, or other businesses thinking of a group or team building activity.”

“Thanks for a really great day last Friday. We have all agreed that it really was a terrific team building day. We would like to thank yourself and all your staff who were really helpful, friendly and did a fantastic job over the day. It was a very well organised and everything went really smoothly, even the rain holding off!

We will be putting a blog on our intranet site so if anyone else is interested we will highly recommend your company.

Thanks again for a great day”
