

YOUR GENERATION TRIVIA

The Your Generation Trivia event is based on the popular game show 'Talkin' About Your Generation', which was hosted by Shaun Micallef for 4 years on Channel 10.

This fun and hilarious event is like a trivia night on steroids as teams compete to earn points by playing various games in a fun and interactive way. Divided into rounds, participants are regularly out of their seats to complete many of the whacky games.

This is NOT your average trivia night, with the final end game giving all teams the opportunity to score big and win the event!

Participants are broken up into teams, and take turns to choose the categories and games to play from the interactive projector screen. Categories can be tailored for each client and event themes can also be included to help celebrate occasions such as Christmas, birthdays, Halloween or even Australia Day.

Games will require teams to get up and out of their seats, and interact with each other and opposing teams. The event encourages teams to take turns to come up on stage to do anything from acting out a movie scene, performing a classic 80s dance move or tasting and identifying mystery food items.

With categories such as television, movies, music, geography, arts, sports and science, there are plenty of games to suit all ages and trivia buffs alike. For 'Talkin' About Your Generation' fans, teams can test their knowledge with popular games such as Chronoloco, Mix N Match, The Age Game and Pandamonium. Each round can involve videos, music, charades, dancing, identifying movies and commercials, singing, putting physical items into chronological order, plus many more.

Included with each 'Your Generation Trivia' event is the Speed Rounds which gives each team the chance to score bonus points!

Your Generation Trivia is the ideal indoor event that can be run in a large office boardroom or conference room. The event can be tailored for adults and school groups, and is the ultimate event to test your knowledge and have a laugh with your friends and colleagues in a much more fun and interactive way than your standard trivia nights.

My experience from our initial contact to post event was so positive, Sam and his team were so easy to work with and had such a streamlined planning process, were quick to respond to any queries, and were extremely organized and personable on the event day.

The Trivia presenter was perfect in the role, both hilarious and encouraging of our staff to really engage in the event and have fun.

Overall feedback from the attendees was positive, the event was really enjoyable, there were so many laughs and it was a great bonding afternoon!

Icing on the cake was the follow up after the event, receiving the Trivia results and the great photos taken by Uplift Events was a really nice take away.
